MR. ATTLEE CAUTIONS AGAINST ANY UNDUE OPTIMISM: HOME DEFENCES STRONGER THAN A YEAR AGO: THE INVASION THREAT STILL REMAINS

A CAUTION AGAINST UNDUE OPTIMISM WAS GIVEN BY MR. CLEMENT R. ATTLEE, LORD PRIVY SEAL, WHEN HE OPENED THE DEBATE ON THE WAR SITUATION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS YESTERDAY. One outstanding fact of the position today, as compared with a year ago, was that Hitler was now fighting on two fronts which the German leaders had always striven to avoid. Hitler had (says Reuter) attacked Britain furiously by air and he had waged war unceasingly at sea but the invasion, which at one time seemed imminent, had been postponed. BUT, said the Lord Privy Seal, NOTHING COULD BE MORE FOOLISH THAN TO IMAGINE THAT POSTPONEMENT MEANT ABANDONMENT. The possibility of the attempt remained, and must remain, a constant factor in our considerations. Instructions had been given to all forces in the British Isles to bring to the highest state of readiness the preparations against invasion. THE BRITISH ARMY AT HOME WAS WELL EQUIPPED AND READY AND ALL STRENGTH WAS IMMEASURABLY GREATER THAN TWELVE MONTHS AGO.

Points From Speech

The following are points from Mr. Attlee's statement, as cabled by Reuter's Bulletin last night:—

DEFENCES

Our Army at Home is well equipped and well led. Our ground defences are incomparably stronger.

RUSSIA

The German plan for a rapid victory in the campaign against Russia had not succeeded. Tremendous fighting has taken place in the Smolensk area and the road to Moscow is still open. In the south, Kiev still stands as a bastion of Russia.

BOMBING

Attacks by our aircraft on Western Germany and enemy occupied territory will be continued and intensified.

ATLANTIC

Though the Battle of the Atlantic was not yet won we were holding our own.

WAR AT SEA

In July, 93 enemy ships, totalling 459,000 tons, had been put out of action, not counting warships.

U.S. AID

The stream of material from the United States exceeds anything we received in the last war.

U-BOATS

There is an increasing number of U-boats but we are turning out more anti-submarine craft, mainly corvettes.

HONGKONG IN NO IMMINENT DANGER

SHIUKWAN, July 31 (Central by Airmail)—The belief that Hongkong will be in no imminent danger was expressed by GENERAL YU HAN-MOU, Commander-in-Chief of the Kwangtung war zone, when asked about his opinion regarding Japanese troop movements in the south.

General Yu said that Japan would not dare to have a head-on collision with Britain in the near future.

Heaviest Bombs On Mannheim

LONDON, Aug. 6 (BWS)—It is learned in London that in gale wind last night a force of aircraft of the Bomber Command attacked objectives at Mannheim, Frankfurt and Karlsruhe with conspicuous success.

On the outward and return journeys, very bad weather was encountered, but over the targets it was clear and a great weight of the heaviest bombs was dropped inflicting severe and widespread damage.

Nine of our aircraft are missing.

ON SMALL SCALE

An Air Ministry and Ministry for Home Security communique states: "Enemy activity last night was on a small scale and mostly

Seventy Attacks By R.A.F.

During July, the Royal Air Force made 70 attacks on Germany and 76 on towns in occupied territories.

This was disclosed by Mr. Attlee, Lord Privy Seal, in the course of his review of the progress of the war in the House of Commons yesterday, says Reuter.

In the Middle East, 126 attacks were made on various targets at a loss of 285 aircraft. We had destroyed for certain 410 enemy planes.

over the east coast of England and Scotland.

"Some damage was done at a few points and the number of casualties is small."

Thailand Is Watching Developments Unshaken

BANGKOK, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—THAILAND is watching developments most vigilantly and is unshaken in her determination to defend the independence that is the keynote of the situation, as seen by competent observers.

The Japanese-Thai situation continues undoubtedly grave, but the tension is now slightly eased.

Observers point out that an unequivocal pronouncement by Britain and America that they decisively react to any evidence of undue Japanese pressure on Bangkok will be opportune and go a long way to relieve the tension.

Meanwhile, Thai opinion is reflected in the prominence given in the Thai Press to Far East crisis news from British sources.

It is a well-known fact that despite the demilitarisation clause of the Thai-French treaty, adequate facilities had been placed at the disposal of Thai armed forces for the defence of Cambodian provinces recently taken over by Thailand.

TANK DEPARTMENT

It is officially announced that a tank department of Thailand's eastern forces has been established at Battambang. Contingents of mechanised troops, as well as a large police force, are already stationed in the newly ceded territory where the troops will remain for a month under the Tokyo treaty.

MANCHUKUO RECOGNISED BANGKOK, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—It is officially announced that Thailand has recognised Manchukuo. The recognition was made from a telegram from the Premier, Luang Pibul, to the Manchu Premier, saying that the Thai Government is pleased to recognise the state of Manchukuo "whose trade relations with Thailand have all along been cordial."

EUROPEAN IN HARBOUR RESCUE

A.R.P. EMPLOYEE IN DESPAIR

Despair over a sum of $6.30 he had stolen from his jacket pocket led a young man, Leung Fu, 29, employed on an A.R.P. tunnel construction job, to jump into the harbour off the ferry Northern Star about 9.35 last night.

He was already unconscious when pulled out and had to be revived. He was sufficiently recovered, however, by the time he was brought to Central Police Station and was permitted to go home when he expressed a wish to be allowed to do so.

Participating in the rescue were Mr. R. L. Barkus, of Kowloon Docks, and a seaman of the Star Ferry Company, both of whom dived off the ferry the moment the man was sighted. The Northern Star was held up several minutes in the search for the man overboard.

Questioned at the Central Police Station as to his motives for leaping into the harbour, Leung said that he had been robbed of his wages—totalling $6.30—and dared not go home as he thought his story would not be believed.

The Commons cheered lustily when Mr. Attlee referred to the magnificent fight of the Russian Army and the people.

Mr. Attlee stressed the very heavy losses in men and material by the German forces.

There were, he said, satisfactory features in the present phase of the struggle which made it difficult for even the most philosophical to prevent cheerfulness from breaking in.

THERE WAS NOTHING WRONG IN BEING CHEERFUL PROVIDED WE DID NOT ALLOW OURSELVES TO RELAX OUR EFFORTS.

Committee To Advise The Govt. On H.C.L.

Official recognition of the rising cost of living is shown by the appointment, by His Excellency the Governor, of a Committee to "advise Government on the matter of a high cost of living allowance for dollar-paid officers, other than those who are drawing salaries not exceeding $35 a month who have already obtained an allowance."

The Committee, it was learned from authoritative sources, comprises

Mr. Justice P. E. F. Cressall, M.C. (Chairman), Hon. Mr. Li Tse-fong, Mr. A. J. C. Taylor, Mr. Ng Chak-wing and Mr. Q. A. A. MacLachlan, with Mrs. W. A. Jones as Secretary.

Interviewed yesterday, Mr. Justice Cressall said that it was the hope of the Committee that members of the services affected would come forward and give their views to the Committee. Circulars have been sent to the Heads of all departments and to the Chinese Civil Servants Club.

The first meeting of the Committee will take place today in the Puisne Judge's Chambers, Supreme Court, while further meetings will take place from time to time. All meetings will be private.

Eden On Threat Against Security Of Singapore

LONDON, Aug. 7 (Reuter)—ANY ACTION WHICH WOULD THREATEN THE INDEPENDENCE AND INTEGRITY OF THAILAND WOULD BE A MATTER OF IMMEDIATE CONCERN TO BRITAIN, MORE PARTICULARLY, AS A THREAT AGAINST THE SECURITY OF SINGAPORE, said Mr. Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, in the House of Commons yesterday when speaking on the Far Eastern situation.

Mr. Eden said that the British Government had not failed to note that the Japanese newspapers have recently been using the same kind of language regarding Thailand as they had employed before the Japanese demands for bases in Indo-China.

The British Ambassador in Tokyo had pointed out to the Japanese Foreign Minister that if a step of this kind were taken, IT MUST INEVITABLY GIVE RISE TO A MOST SERIOUS SITUATION BETWEEN BRITAIN AND JAPAN.

FIRST SHIPMENT OF ARMS FROM THE UNITED STATES TO RUSSIA

Only Single Enemy Planes Succeed In Breaking Through Moscow's Defences

THE UNITED STATES HAS SENT RUSSIA THE FIRST SHIPMENT OF ARMS, it was announced in Washington, says Reuter.

The United States has acquired from Canada between 400 and 500 Hurricanes with guns and war material, according to a report from Ottawa. It is said that they will be sent to CHINA, the NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES and probably RUSSIA.

Several groups of German planes attacked Moscow on Tuesday night, according to the Moscow Radio.

Again only single planes succeeded in breaking through the city's defences and no important damage was done.

The enemy were scattered by anti-aircraft fire and night fighters.

The mid-day Soviet communique yesterday stated: "During the night of August 5, our troops continued the fighting in the directions of Kholm, Smolensk and

Nazi High Command Claims 895 Thousand Russian Prisoners

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—The German High Command claims that 895,000 prisoners were taken in the Russian campaign and "the number killed was far greater."

Russian losses of materials, said the German High Command, total 13,145 armoured fighting vehicles, 10,388 guns and 9,082 aircraft.

Following are the chief points of four communiques:

FIRST: The capture of Ostrov, Pskov and Pskov has created a pre-condition for a push to the north and an initiation attack in the direction of Leningrad.

Meanwhile, the army operating in Estonia took Dorpat, Fellin and Pernau and threw enemy divisions, after numerous violent skirmishes, back north of Taps. Operations of this army group are not yet concluded.

SECOND: In the south, our troops had to overcome particularly difficult conditions of terrain, weather and a numerically superior enemy. One force succeeded in

Tobruk Area Action

CAIRO, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—More aggressive action is being taken in the Tobruk area and raiding parties last night seized a German post, in spite of heavy resistance, and inflicted casualties.

The British brought back a number of prisoners.

STRANDED AMERICANS IN JAPAN

OCTOBER ADVICE STILL APPLIES

SHANGHAI, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—The American evacuation advice of last October, and reiterated in February, still applies only to non-essential Americans, the SHANGHAI EVENING POST learns from an unimpeachable high quarter in Washington.

The paper thought that clarifications were necessary because of the considerable anxiety aroused in Americans in the Far East by the reported statement of Mr. Cordell Hull on Monday when, at a Press conference, he said he was studying the problem of stranded Americans in Japan and then reminded the correspondents that Americans had long ago been advised to return from the Far East while transportation was available.

Through its associate Editor, Randall Gould, in the United States, the Evening Post learns there is no change whatsoever in the American policy announced last October and re-emphasised in February.

It is added that Mr. Hull spoke informally and intended to recall earlier statements, not to revise or expand them.

Today's News Summary

MAKING A STATEMENT in the House of Commons yesterday, the Lord Privy Seal, Mr. Attlee, cautioned against undue optimism. He said that Britain was in a much stronger position today than a year ago. Cheers met Mr. Attlee's tribute to the magnificent struggle put up by the Russians against the invader. The Lord Privy Seal also disclosed that during July, 410 enemy planes were destroyed for certain in the Middle East.

A STATEMENT ON THE Far Eastern situation was made in the House of Commons yesterday by the British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs who said that any action which would threaten the independence and integrity of Thailand would be a matter of immediate concern to Britain.

SOME OF THE HEAVIEST bombs were dropped by aircraft of the Bomber Command on Frankfurt and Mannheim during raids on Tuesday night.

THE FIRST SHIPMENT of arms has left the United States for Russia, it is announced. With regard to the Russo-German war, the Nazi High Command claims the capture of 895,000 Russian troops.

THAILAND, ACCORDING TO latest reports, is watching developments with unshaken determination to defend her independence.

BASEBALL NOTES:

ENTERTAINING CLASH BETWEEN CHUNG HWA AND THE MINDANAO

Although inclement weather again washed out half of the week-end baseball programme, local fans were not entirely deprived of their favourite sport as the J.S.S. MINDANAO and CHUNG HWA put on an entertaining clash on Saturday afternoon. The Mindanao lads won by the huge margin of 14 tallies to 1, but first class hurling by "Ski" Powlawski and some sparkling defensive work on both sides kept the game from being featureless.

Chung Hwa won the toss but started off badly as Dick Chung and Loong both fanned and Bill Chang grounded to "Ski" to end first frame in rapid time. Willie Wilson fanned when the champions went to bat but Crooner Ruel singled to centre.

Powlawski followed with a single and Ruel pulled off a wasted steal of third as Tony Mascavage worked Wally Ching for a pass that loaded the sacks. McKenzie popped to Bill Chang behind the plate and R. W. Wilson was tossed out Ching to Granpop Leung without a marker being scored.

Chung Hwa garnered their lone tally in the second. McKenzie muffed Morocco Chan's hold to give the latter two bases. Wally Ching was pegged out by Bowersox. Chan taking third, but Y. T. Chan whiffed the breeze to make it two away. Moore then fumbled Granpop Leung's grounder to allow "Morocco" to dent the plate and Granpop was caught stealing for the third out.

MINDANAO LEAD

In their half of the same stanza, the Mindanao lads took the lead with a brace of tallies. After Bowersox had fled out to Loong, Moore got on the easy way when a wild pitch by Wally Ching skidded of his ribs, and was driven home by Groncek's slashing triple to left. The latter came home with the second counter when Ho unleashed a wild peg to third.

Willie Wilson beat out a dropped third strike, stole second but was then nabbed off second. Wally Ching to Ho. "Crooner" Ruel then slashed out a double to centre for his second straight hit but was left stranded when Powlawski's foul fly was snaffled by Granpop Leung.

STEADY HURLING

Steady hurling by Wally Ching held the winners up to the fifth frame, but tallies by Ruel, McKenzie, R. W. Wilson, Bowersox and Moore put paid to Chung Hwa's pennant hopes.

Just for good measure, the blue-jackets staged another six-run rally in the seventh that gave Chung Hwa the impossible mark of thirteen tallies for a tie. As indicated above the Chinese lads never looked like reducing the margin.

"Ski" Powlawski fanned eleven of the Chinese batters and staged a great comeback to take the honours of the game although Hank Ruel shone with a perfect 1,000 batting average in three trips to the plate. Groncek got the longest hit with a triple in the second. Morocco Chan and Ho were the only members of the losing squad to get a lone hit apiece.

HOCKEY CUP

CLOSE MATCH ON ROLLER SKATES

In a closely contested match at the King's Skating Rink yesterday evening, CYCLONES SPORTS CLUB, one of the strongest contenders for the CHI YIN YAT PAO CUP, defeated KING'S by two goals to one in the roller skates hockey league.

The more aggressive methods of the Cyclones had the King's defence in difficulties early on, and took the lead through J. Mitchell. In the second half, King's equalised through Chang Kow-wing, who was the best of the losing forward line.

The winning goal was put in by A. R. Mitchell and, despite the great efforts by the losers, Cyclones managed to hold on to the slender lead to the final whistle.

The following were the teams: CYCLONES: M. H. Hassan; R. Rocha, A. H. Bakar, A. Mohammed, A. K. Markar and A. Mitchell. Utilities: Omar Rahman, J. Mitchell, I. Mitchell, R. A. Bux.

KING'S: Chin Hak; Ng Ping, Lo Tak; Henderson, Chang Kow-wing and D. D. Nien. Utilities: Lau Hin-wan and Fong Chi-wai.

The game between China Skating Rink (Panthers) and Buccaneers on the Kowloon Rink was not played owing to the latter failing to field a team and it is understood that Panthers have been conceded a walk-over.

CAGE CUP GAMES

Playing superior basketball, the National University beat the Yu Keung team by 39-31 in the Wu Te Chen Cup basketball league played at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. yesterday.

The Place Of The Christian Community In The Work Of Establishing Social Justice In The General Community

The problems connected with this subject are chiefly of a practical rather than a theoretical nature. There have been times when Christianity has been regarded as a purely personal affair and when any sermon which did not confine itself to the narrower aspects of personal morality or devotion aroused complaints that the preacher was mixing up politics and religion; when "business is business" was a motto which implied that morality and religion had better not interfere; when the only scope of the religious life that was recognised was in the narrow sense of church-going and abstention from evil pleasures such as dancing and card-playing.

That view of Christianity is fast promised. Labour is cheap and dying out. We know what is the answer to the question "Am I my brother's keeper?", and the modern swing away from individualism has increased the tendency to consider the social duties, and responsibilities of the Church and the individual Christian.

The Christian Church has the duty of being the salt which prevents the decay of society. We would not find much disagreement as to the function of the Christian Community. We would all recognise the Church's social responsibility. The problems are essentially practical. How can this responsibility be best discharged? If we would be hard put to it to define "social justice," we all could give instances of what is socially unjust. There are numbers of social evils which we would all recognise as objects of Christian attack.

But there is still a great deal of social irresponsibility not only amongst Christians but also outside the Church. We are acquainted with the paradox of "Moral Man" and "Immoral Society." The cause surely is that we only have a conscience about what we call personal or private behaviour; our social conscience is suffering from retarded development.

I would like to suggest therefore that the first application of the principle of the salt and leaven is to increase in ourselves, in our fellow-Christians, and in the community at large the sense of personal responsibility for social evil. For the Christian this means accepting responsibility and being repentant for social evils whether we are directly implicated in them or not. And repentance involves first putting our own house in order and then taking corporate action through the Church as a whole. Much of the social sinfulness around us we have inherited. But that does not absolve us from the responsibility of doing our utmost to check it or destroy it.

Let me illustrate what I mean by examples. We come to accept the poverty and the exploitation of human beings in Hongkong as inevitable. We may at first be shocked to hear that girls work in factories for a wage of six or eight dollars a month—which is sheer exploitation. But the social conscience of Hongkong is not tender enough to clamour against it so that it is removed. Part of the trouble is that we are ourselves, often unconsciously, involved in similar exploitation. We are contented with the question, "What kinds of activity should Christians as such organise to attack social evil and injustice?" The possible alternatives seem to me to be two, and they are not mutually exclusive, they can be combined.

The first kind is what is often called ambulance work. Christians see that under the present organisation of society there are many victims of injustice, and they do their best to help them.

When we come to external action, the question is, "What kinds of activity should Christians as such organise to attack social evil and injustice?" The possible alternatives seem to me to be two, and they are not mutually exclusive, they can be combined.

"A DISPATCH FROM REUTER'S"

Acknowledged as one of the very cornerstones of modern journalism is the News Service Bureau. Its conception was a great and important step in the spread of news and universal enlightenment. Now there comes to the screen a picture of that dramatic development, "A DISPATCH FROM REUTER'S," which will be shown at the Queen's Theatre on Aug. 16.

Julius Reuter was the first to organize an international news service. Where days, weeks and even months had been necessary for the transmission to the same story in minutes. Reuter believed in wide distribution of news and facts and in a free press that could print the truth. When one of his bulletins provoked a parliamentary crisis which imperiled freedom of the press, he said:

"A censored press is the tool of a corrupt minority — a free press is the symbol of a free people. But to be worthy of freedom, the press must always tell the truth — for truth is freedom — and without truth there can only be slavery and degradation."

Reuter believed in the power of

MOVIES ARE ON THE MOVE AGAIN

Hollywood — The movies are on the move again. After a few seasons during which most outdoor scenes in pictures were not what they seemed, motion picture companies have rediscovered the advantages of real locations and are making use of them in rapidly increasing numbers.

The split screens and transparencies of the process stages — there is at least one on every lot in Hollywood — may gather dust for the next few months while production companies roam the world to find locations that match the story to be filmed. The Hollywood miracle workers, who can, when necessary, make the inside of a sound stage resemble a sunset on the Painted Desert, have not lost their jobs but their noses are temporarily out of joint.

James Cagney and Bette Davis, stars of the new Warner Bros. picture, "The Bride Came C.O.D.," went to Death Valley for two weeks last recently, with Director William Keighley and the entire production company, cast and crew, to film scenes in that outdoor wonderland.

Of course the desert could be almost duplicated on Stage 7 at the studio. The word "almost" gives the clue to the changing Hollywood custom. Nothing is quite so much like Death Valley as Death Valley, and since it is a real place and available for picture purposes, there is no good reason why it shouldn't be used.

GREAT VALUE

The recently released picture, "High Sierra," in which Ida Lupino and Humphrey Bogart emoted against a magnificent natural scenic backdrop that included the real Mt. Whitney, the highest peak in the continental United States, is an example of the great value a location can be to a fine picture. No art director would undertake to reproduce the majestic west-slope of the "High Sierra" range and no sound stage is big enough to hold the action that was staged there with telling effect at the conclusion of the picture. "High Sierra" made good use of the real High Sierra during a two-week location trip.

The real "feel" of the wide open spaces needed for "Bad Men of Missouri" could scarcely be found close to Hollywood. The company making that has already been "penched" in on a location at Sonoma, California, where parts of many roaring action pictures have

"The Great Commandment"

A Dramatic Masterpiece

When Hollywood got its first look at "The Great Commandment" it was amazed. Instantly the film's dramatic impact and deep meaning registered, and it was heralded a masterpiece.

Brilliant in its rugged simplicity and breaking many film traditions with an unfettered approach that exudes enormous depth and power. "The Great Commandment," which 20th Century-Fox presents today at the King's Theatre, depicts one phase of the world's greatest drama.

This unique film's theme is simple. It attempts to show in stirring, human terms a practical application of teachings that have endured for 2,000 years. It tells the story of the Nazarene bringing about peace during a revolt against the tyranny of the Romans. The cast includes John Beal, Maurice Moscovitch, Albert Dekker, Marjorie Cooley, Warren McCullum, Lloyd Corrigan, Olaf Hytten and Ian Wolfe.

Presented to the film world, "The Great Commandment's" genuineness, sincerity, spirit of tolerance and depth of meaning, caused a furor which promises an unparalleled experience for cinema-goers.

been filmed in the past thirty years.

For "The Gentle People," in which Ida Lupino and John Garfield are starred, the Warners plan to take the company to San Francisco. The San Francisco waterfront, skyline and the bridges are so well known and so difficult to duplicate realistically, that it is considered good policy to take the company up to the Golden Gate for a long location trip. "Highway West" is to be filmed for the most part, in the Big Tujunga Canyon, which, while not far from the home studio in Burbank, is still to be considered an exterior location for the company, which includes Brenda Marshall, Arthur Kennedy, Olympia Bruckner, William Lundigan and Willie Best.

DON'T LET GERMS BREED IN YOUR DENTURES

Stained, unclean false teeth are not only ugly. They may become a breeding ground for germs. Small particles of food lodged between the teeth and under the plate will decompose and give off a stale odour. Brushing alone will not kill germs and clean false teeth thoroughly. Use 'STERADENT' powder—recommended by 10,000 dentists.

'STERADENT' is very easy to use. Add a little to warm water, stir well and leave your teeth in it for 20 minutes while you dress or overnight. In the morning rinse them and they will be spotlessly clean and free of germs. No matter how badly your teeth may be stained 'STERADENT' will make them white and fresh. Even blackest tobacco stains will completely disappear after a few treatments. 'STERADENT' powder is guaranteed to give complete satisfaction and cannot harm your teeth. Try it to-night.

CHINESE CONFIDENT OF ABILITY TO HOLD THEIR OWN IN MILITARY FIELD

Over One Million Japanese Troops Tied Down In China

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—The Chinese feel they have gained and not lost by the German attack on Russia, says The Times correspondent in China. The Chinese, he says, are certain of their own ability, with the material help of other members of the A.B.C. Front, to prolong the "China Incident" for another four years or longer.

Meanwhile they assert that it is Japan whose position is becoming more hazardous, beset as she is by economic difficulties, uncertainty of her friends and tempted by moves which might easily bring her into open conflict with Russia, Britain, the Netherlands East Indies and possibly the United States when she has already over one million troops in China.

What can Japan hope for, ask the Chinese. Not to wind up the China Incident now in its fifth year, not to win any enduring favour from Germany who is likely to betray her as she betrayed Russia, not for the oil of the Indies where the Dutch are ready to blow up the wells at a moment's notice.

It is little wonder that the Chinese feel that if they can weather the economic crisis they can look forward to a future based on the assurance of an allied victory which is the pre-requisite for a real "New Order" under which they can rebuild China for her own people and not for an allied taskmaster.

ECONOMIC WAR

The correspondent emphasised that the chief field in which China requires help today is economic. He recalls Chiang Kai-shek's repeated statements that a war of resistance is thirty per cent. military and seventy per cent. economic. Most foreign experts are agreed that Japanese efforts to intensify blockade of China will not alone bring about the economic collapse of China. The danger is internal: if many of the problems are the inevitable results of the four year war the crucial test will be the manner in which they are tackled.

Although pretty sure of their ability to weather the economic crisis, the Chinese authorities, says "The Times" correspondent, admit that the control of food prices in the interior, despite the execution of food hoarders in Szechuan, is tending to get out of hand.

The new food Ministry, once it gets into its stride, may be able to curb some or all the evils in the present situation.

INFLATION DANGER

Foreign experts have agreed that China's economic problems of which inflation is the most serious, has not yet reached a fatal point as it did in Germany when she collapsed after the last war, but they feel that forthright methods must be adopted if ultimate disaster is to be averted and that this can be done if the Chinese show

THAI RECOGNITION OF MANCHUKUO?

SHANGHAI, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—Thailand has recognised Manchukuo, says a Japanese report from Bangkok quoting a Thai Foreign Ministry announcement.

JAPANESE TROOPS FROM CANTON SENT TO FRENCH INDO-CHINA

SAIGON, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—While half a dozen Japanese freighters continue to come up the Saigon River daily past five destroyers and a cruiser moored on the bank, long lorry convoys roll towards the Thai frontier. A large number of lorries have departed since Saturday.

A typical convoy consists of half a dozen Harley Davidson motor-cycle combinations and about 50 Chevrolet and Ford trucks, half containing 25 troops each and the remainder carrying a few troops and material, including small field pieces and trench mortars.

A few trucks trail long-barrelled 75's which are probably all-purpose guns with high elevation against aircraft.

No heavy artillery is yet seen although warehouses and docks are jammed with material. It is now learned that except for a few hundred troops from Tonkin, the remainder of the Japanese forces arrived from Canton, a considerable proportion having seen service at Nanning.

BUILDINGS COMMANDEERED

It is understood that all buildings surrounding the main square at Nanning have been commandeered by the Japanese and occupation is proceeding apace.

The present rainy season is likely to hinder the manoeuvrability of the Japanese forces and it is expected that they will be fully occupied for several weeks consolidating their positions and building up their military stores.

Japanese trucks are at present using their own imported gasoline.

Saloon remains quiet although American firms are taking immediate steps drastically to reduce the foreign staff.

BURMA BROUGHT NEARER TO WAR

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—Events are developing in the Far East which may bring Burma very much nearer to the war than is the case now, declared the DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE, Under-Secretary for India and Burma, in the House of Lords yesterday when moving the second reading of the India and Burma postponement of elections bill.

The Bill enables the governors to prolong the life of the India and Burma legislatures to one year after the termination of hostilities.

In the case of India, the Duke said, holding elections at the present time would almost certainly lead to an aggravation of communal trouble; moreover, India was engaged in a gigantic war effort which would inevitably be distracted to some extent by holding elections now.

In the case of Burma, there is communal dissension and the present intention was to hold elections, but events were developing and they could not be certain that conditions would remain such that elections in Burma would be desirable.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN COLLABORATION DISTURBS AXIS

ZURICH, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—The Axis Press shows marked concern over the alleged Anglo-Russian collaboration regarding Iran and Afghanistan.

Considerable discrepancies appear in the figures reported in the German press of Germans resident in Iran. The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, for instance, says that they number only 690 whereas the Volkischer Beobachter admits 2,500.

According to the Berlin correspondent of the Basler Nachrichten, another symptom of Anglo-Russian collaboration was pamphlets dropped by the R.A.F. over Berlin last Saturday night, saying that the "Russians are still capable of long resistance and will later launch effective counter-offensives."

U.S. CRUISERS AT BRISBANE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (Reuter)—The United States Navy Department has announced that two heavy cruisers, Northampton and Salt Lake City, have arrived at Brisbane, Australia, on what is described as a training cruise.

The Commander of the two cruisers is Rear-Admiral S.A. Taffinder.

They put into Brisbane for "fueling and several days of recreation for the crew."

1 Garden Street,

Dear Sirs,
Last week I had 18 teeth out, and not being well my nerves were in a terrible way; in fact, I had to be taken home from the dentist. I went on for a couple of days in terrible pain with my head and eyes due to my nerves, so I had to go to a doctor. On my way home I bought a packet of 'ASPRO'. I took three and laid down, and to my surprise I woke up feeling lovely. Now, if I feel a slight headache at all I fly to my 'ASPRO'. I think 'ASPRO' should be in every home. I could mention a few more facts where 'ASPRO' has done good in my home. Once tried, always used.

Yours faithfully,
(Sgd.) Mrs. E. VIVIAN

WHERE WILL JAPAN STRIKE NEXT?

THE WARNING given by Britain and the United States to Japan of their determination to keep open China's lifeline, via the Burma Road, has aroused considerable speculation on what the Japanese are planning to do next. With their occupation of Indo-China now completed and the heavy movement of troops along the Thai frontier, it is generally believed that demands for territorial concessions will shortly be made on the Thai Government. Thailand's reaction to these developments is not at all clear at the moment. In keeping with her understanding with Britain—there is no definite military alliance between the two countries—leaders of the Thai Government have been declaring that Thailand will adhere to a policy of strict neutrality and that she will resist any encroachment by a third power. At the same time, the position appears confused when it is admitted that Japan is carrying on so-called economic negotiations with Thailand and that the Thai Government has been prevailed upon to recognise the Japanese puppet regimes in Manchukuo and Nanking. This makes it obvious that the reported economic negotiations between Japan and Thailand are no more than a series of economic demands—a customary Axis procedure which usually precedes military action.

THIS giving in to Japanese pressure by Thailand has undoubtedly created a situation which is not without its threat to British and American interests and the question that arises is, assuming that the Japanese occupy Thailand in the near future, where will she strike next and how Britain and the United States will regard her next move as determining the appropriate moment for throwing their military weight into the fight against aggression in the Far East. At the moment British preparations in Malaya, with American support, are regarded mainly as defensive—that is, a defence against any attack on British, American and Dutch interests which Japan has sweepingly included in her ambitious co-prosperity sphere for East Asia. This co-prosperity sphere may ultimately be Japan's objective, but before she can embark on putting her programme into operation, her primary need is to liquidate her ill-conceived "China Incident", which has long become a mill-stone round her neck which has proved a serious obstacle to all her expansion plans. Will her occupation of Thailand enable her to do this effectively enough without coming into conflict with Britain and America?

OPINION on this issue is divided. There is a large majority which feels that the best way Japan can cripple China's lifeline through the Burma Road is not so much by bombing the road itself and damaging a few trucks

"According To Plan" Claim By Nazis In Russian Campaign Disproved

"If the Russians are able to hang on to their positions until September and October, the obstacles to any organised German advance will be greater than ever," declared MAJOR LEWIS HASTINGS, B.B.C. military commentator, when he broadcast from London yesterday on the repeated German reports that the campaign in Russia was proceeding "according to plan."

"I am sure you will appreciate that there is some difficulty in making a running comment on the Russian campaign when one is faced with the absence of important details in communiques and also by the fact that there are no correspondents at the front," began Major Hastings.

GOEBBELS' DRIVE

Major Hastings referred to the drive that was put out about this campaign by Dr. Goebbels. Here is an example of this propaganda—"The German nation is waging the present war to preserve its right to live and to enforce a new social order."

"That is a social order and right to live of a man-eating shark in a bathing pool," said Major Hastings, and went on to give further examples of the propaganda put out by the Germans on this subject.

One well-known German newspaper declared that a good deal of uncertainty of the progress of the war had been due to the reluctance of the German High Command, and went on "as this has reportedly become the Battle of Europe, it must necessarily remain inconclusive, but all is going according to the German plan."

"If the German people are prepared to swallow this sort of talk, it is a sign that German intelligence has suffered much greater under the Nazi influence than is generally believed," continued Major Hastings. Dr. Goebbels, he said, had got far ahead of the German army in these operations and thus contortions of the press and radio became inevitable.

HIGH COMMAND RETICENCE
Major Hastings next referred to the phrase "reticence of the German High Command." That, he said, had been a slow and fanciful conversion.

"We well remember those first two Saturday night communiques and since that first rupture of mendacity the world has learned something," said Major Hastings. "Now for this curious phrase 'the Battle of Europe being which are conveying supplies to China, but by hitting at the supply dumps from which these stores are finding their way up the Burma Road. These are obviously Rangoon and Mandalay. Systematic and heavy raids on these centres would put a large part of these supplies out of commission—far larger, in fact, than can be damaged by raids on the Burma Road itself. But such action will necessarily bring Japan into hostilities with Britain and America, who will then put their pledge to keep this lifeline to China into operation. On the other hand, if Japan is content to merely attempt to cut the Burma Road without encroaching on Burma territory, what action can Britain and the United States take to stop her? Assistance to China in the shape of planes and munitions to enable her to meet these Japanese raids on the Burma Road will, of course, be increased, but it is still a moot point whether Britain and the United States will seize on such a move by Japan as the appropriate time to turn their defence measures into offensive action to put a stop to aggression once and for all in the Orient. The steady flow of men and war materials to Malaya lends colour to the belief that this is what Britain and the United States contemplate doing, but what is certain is that Japan will find the odds against her to be far greater than she apparently realises.

necessarily inconclusive." Of course, it is a confession that what was expected to be a short victorious campaign has turned into a long fight on a gigantic scale. And now for the last sentence of things going 'according to the German plan.'

"This parrot-like repetition has no justification whatever. I will give you three reasons why the German plan has yet to be carried out. Firstly, the Germans have admitted that they under-estimated the numbers of Russian troops and planes by about 60 per cent.; secondly, the stubbornness of the Russian defence has not only halted the attacks, but forced them to change its direction at the end of the sixth week; and thirdly, there are the conditions behind the lines.

GERMAN REPORTS

"With regard to these conditions, I can quote from German official reports. Here are some—'The tremendous hardships for the German troops. Men wading up to their knees in sand. Motor vehicles getting stuck. Bridges being blown up by the enemy who are entrenched in fields, villages and every single house.'

"Many passages refer to the precautions that have to be taken behind the front owing to the depredations of Russian guerrillas and also refer to the destruction wrought by the Russians everywhere.

"Well the general impression is certainly not that of an organised advance moving irresistibly to victory," continued Major Hastings. "There is no doubt also that the superb courage of the Russian soldiers has been a shock to the Germans."

"It should be remembered that these pictures of the difficulties which the Germans are experiencing are not broadcast for foreign consumption. They are in German for the benefit of the Germans. If it is true that Dr. Goebbels wants to present a picture of smooth progress, why these discordant notes?

DOOMED HOPES

"Clearly the Germans were led to expect a speedy victory and their hopes are now doomed. The Germans themselves have put the figures of the forces engaged on the whole front at nine millions. With this colossal number of men engaged, reports of the capture of 10,000, 20,000 or 30,000 Russians, even if correct, are seen in their proper proportions.

"If the Russians are able to hang on to their opposition until September and October, the obstacles to any organised German advance will be greater than ever. "It is of course believed that the German striking power has not yet lost its influence and no one doubts that the losses on both sides have been great, but the invading army appears to be about to undergo another blood transfusion. Men and machines are being hurled into the battle and even the Italians are being used, though no doubt they will merely be an army of scavengers.

"Whatever the talk by Dr. Goebbels, the Nazi criminals depend on winning this war before the winter," concluded Major Hastings, "and they are throwing in everything they have got."

CORRESPONDENCE

FIREWOOD &amp; GOVT. CONTROL

To the Editor, H.K. Daily Press
Sir—Without beating about the bush, may I ask the question; "Will the price of firewood go up as the price of rice has, should the Government find it desirable to take over wholesale operations without the services of a General Agent?"

It is logical to answer that it would, in view of the fact that the creation of a Firewood Monopoly would entail enormous expenditure, including pay for a large European and native staff, office and branch office set up and current expenses, house rent, etc., etc.

Even if the Government is willing to subsidise the Monopoly, the saving would only be "two cents per picul." Would this "two cents" be sufficient inducement to the retailers to reduce their retail price from $1 per 25 catties to $1 for 45 catties?

It seems to me the present system is the most economical. Those who advocate its abolishment do not know what they will get or they do not care what the public will get.

The only reasonable charge which has been brought against the General Agent is "applications for stocks, especially in the case of small dealers, were not always dealt with in rotation." The proper remedy is obvious—to get some one who will adhere to the rule of rotation.

To be very frank, the public, the consumers, are shy of Government Monopoly or Government control of price. In the case of rice, the price has gone sky high, and in the case of the latter, the "control price" has always been at the maximum instead of the minimum.

Another point raised is "Increased cost of transportation." With this, however, the General Agent has nothing to do. Nevertheless, it is an important point. The people concerned are the snipping companies. Is it necessary to charge $60 per ton for freight while only a little while ago it was about $20? Has the price of coal gone up that much? Justify the high rate charged by the shipping companies for the transportation of daily necessities?

A pertinent question is: "Will it be more economical for the Government to take over ships for such public service and pay the shipping companies a reasonable earning for their investment?"
Yours, etc.,
IMPARTIAL.

FIREWOOD PRICES

The Editor, H.K. Daily Press
Sir—I shall be pleased if you will kindly allow me space for this letter in your esteemed paper, which I think will be of interest to those who are using firewood.

I sent my servant out this morning to obtain $2 worth of firewood, but she came back a little later saying that not a single shop in Wanchai had firewood to sell. On hearing this, I went out myself, and approached several shops, but was met with the same reply "Sorry, we have no stock." I was, therefore, compelled to buy from an unlicensed firewood dealer (a husband-and-wife business on the pavement along Lockhart Road) and to accept 22 catties for a dollar, whereas only a week ago I could obtain 45 catties, the Government official rate.

"I wonder to myself: Why has this 'black market' escaped the eyes of the authorities concerned? Can anybody enlighten me in this matter?"

YOURS, ETC.
ELO.

(Would advise you to furnish full particulars to the Controller of Stores for the necessary action to be taken.—Ed., H. K. D. Press)

BURMESE INDIGNANT

The Burmese who are mostly ardent Buddhists are bitterly against the destruction of Buddhist temples in China by Japanese aerial bombs, according to Abbot Lo Kwan, leader of the Chinese Buddhist International Propaganda Corps, who has returned to Kunming from a trip to Burma.

Abbot Lo Kwan also revealed that the Chinese resident in Burma are deeply patriotic and most concerned over the progress of the war of resistance. Abbot Lo Kwan will leave for Chungking in a few days.—(Central News).

JAPANESE GOVERNMENT CIRCLES CONTINUE TO MAINTAIN SILENCE

TOKYO, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—JAPANESE GOVERNMENT CIRCLES ARE CONTINUING TO MAINTAIN ABSOLUTE SILENCE regarding Thailand amid persistent Press, private and official indications of the period of intensive internal preparation for the inevitable worst.

New Japanese Political Party To Be Formed, Say Reports

TOKYO, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—Prompted by the desire to place Parliamentary influences on a war footing on one hand, and on the other to break the status quo of the Diet, young members of the Diet are banding together to form a new political organisation, according to the MIYAKO SHIMBUN and the NIKKI SHIMBUN.

The movement has been started by Mr. Ichiro Hatoyama, former leading member of the now defunct Seiyukai Party and Education Minister of the Saito Cabinet of 1932.

HEARTY RESPONSE

The papers report that Mr. Hatoyama's move has elicited a hearty response among younger members of the other political parties, including the Minseitō and Kihara and Manajima factions of the Seiyukai.

If all the members of the defunct political parties unite, the papers predict a new political organisation will be formed with all former political affiliations, and leanings sunk in the platform of the Totalitarian Party.

"OTHER WARSHIPS ABOUT"

MELBOURNE, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—Commenting upon the visit to Brisbane of the United States warship Northampton and Salt Lake City, Australia's Navy Minister, Mr. W. F. Hughes said:

"This visit will not escape the notice of friends of the North. Although only two warships are here, we are encouraged to believe there are others about."

LIKELY TO SEE MORE

BRISBANE, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—"You are likely to see more of the United States Navy while the war lasts," Rear-Admiral Taffinder, commanding United States cruisers here, told reporters today.

"Warships are not likely to visit other Australian ports, but will merely call at Brisbane for fuel and supplies."

Konoye Reports To Mikado On Political Development

TOKYO, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—The Prime Minister, PRINCE KONOYE, was received by the EMPEROR in audience this afternoon at which he reported to the Throne on the general political development.

Prince Konoye also conferred with Marquis Koichi Kido, Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal.

The hour-long interview yesterday evening between the Soviet Ambassador, M. Smetanin, and the Foreign Minister, Admiral Toyoda, was thought possibly to have been connected with Japan's attitude regarding the Soviet-German war which has hitherto not been discussed.

Adm. Toyoda received the Axis envoys soon after the appointment to offer reassurance that Japan is adhering strictly to the Tripartite Pact but the Soviets are not advised about the Japanese attitude towards the Neutrality Treaty.

So far as is known, this is the first meeting of Admiral Toyoda and M. Smetanin.

WAS ASSURED

In view of an official spokesman's repeated assertions that the Japanese-Soviet commercial relations are being continued, it is assumed that M. Smetanin was assured that Japan was not deviating from the policy of neutrality.

The visit is possibly also connected with the necessity of revision of the projected commercial agreement.

Meanwhile, Japan is tightening her belt at home and in East Asia to assure supplies of essentials.

A semi-official Japanese source reports that Government is considering further restrictions on the private use of petroleum, and also utmost efforts to increase the production of domestic, natural and synthetic oil, metals and other essentials.

At the same time, food supply and distribution are also causing concern.

On this subject, the Agriculture and Home Ministers reported to the Throne yesterday, mentioning the damage to the crop caused by the recent flood which was admittedly much more serious than it was believed previously.

India War Orders

LUCKNOW, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—War orders placed with various industries in the United Provinces during the first six months of 1941 total over 12 crores of rupees.

Main industries are now becoming more and more engaged in war supplies.

Netherlands' Confidence In Allied Victory Is Stronger

BATAVIA, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—The Netherlands East Indies Government and the People's Council have again emphasised that there is no question of the removal of the East Netherlands Government being considered.

"British resistance is continuously increasing and our own confidence in an Allied victory is stronger than ever. On the other hand, London, as the centre of warfare, is the best place for the seat of the Netherlands Government for the promotion of all affairs connected with Netherlands' part in this common struggle."

MORAL DEFENSIBILITY

Regarding the situation in the Pacific, Government stressed the necessity of continued reinforcements to the Netherlands East Indies, defence apparatus and increased economical and moral defensibility.

Delivery of ordered war materials are proceeding satisfactorily, each ship bringing important quantities from abroad.

Endeavour is specially being made to obtain the most modern offensive and defensive materials.

Plans to start the manufacturing of munitions and explosives are in an advanced stage.

Caution By Attlee

We should recognise that our better situation was only comparative and that, although we had come through great dangers and triumphs, we were still fighting for our very existence against a very strong and ruthless enemy. He was confident that should the Germans attempt an invasion by sea or air, they would be destroyed, but nothing could be left to chance.

GIGANTIC STRUGGLE

Mr. Attlee continued: "Today our eyes are naturally turned to the gigantic struggle ranging from the White to the Black Sea. Throughout the whole of that enormous battle area, the Russian Army and people are putting up a magnificent fight (Loud Cheers) against the massed forces of Germany and the hangers-on of the Nazi regime."

"It would be very foolish for any one to attempt to forecast the outcome of that struggle, but I think it is abundantly plain the plans of the German High Command for a rapid victory have not succeeded (Cheers)."

"As long ago as July 13, the Germans claimed that Smolensk had fallen and that the roads to Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev were open. This claim has certainly not been substantiated."

"In the far North, Murmansk remains in Russian hands. Russian resistance is stubborn and the enemy has a considerable way to go before the railway line from Leningrad to Murmansk is reached."

NO REAL PROGRESS

"On the south shore of the Baltic, the thrust towards Leningrad has made no real progress recently. Tremendous fighting is now taking place in the Smolensk area, but the way to Moscow is still far from being open, while in the Ukraine, Kiev, the capture of which the Germans claimed three weeks ago, is still the bastion in the Russian defence."

"It is clear, from a communique of the German High Command, that they have been disagreeably surprised by the determination, courage and fighting quality of the Russian Army (Cheers). From the tone of German statements, it would appear that they do not consider such pertinacity to be quite playing the game (Laughter)."

"It may not be the Nazi game, but it is winning the game. It is clear the Germans have sustained very heavy losses in men and material. I am sure everybody has been stirred by this splendid resistance to the invader (Loud Cheers)."

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—A very small number of enemy aircraft made brief appearances over the coastal areas of Britain yesterday, says an Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security communique. Up to 8 p.m. double summer time, no reports of bombing had been received.

IRRITATION IN MESSAGES FROM TURKEY

DETAILS GIVEN BY TIMES

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—The irritation expressed in messages from Turkey over the phrases used by THE TIMES' leading article on Aug. 1 is followed today by a paragraph in which THE TIMES' Diplomatic correspondent goes into more details.

According to Ankara and Istanbul cables, uneasiness was caused there by a passage in the leader, dealing with the future, and specifically with Eastern Europe, and declared:

"Leadership (in Eastern Europe) can fall only to Germany or Russia. Neither Britain nor the United States can exercise or will aspire to exercise, any presuming role in those regions."

CONCEPTS DIFFER

The Times' Diplomatic correspondent today writes: "The British and German concepts of leadership differ. The word 'leadership' in English does not imply 'domination' by Russia or any other Power in Eastern Europe and there can be no question in the minds of British statesmen of its imposition on unwilling communities."

"While the recent history of some so-called nations of Eastern Europe suggests that they need external leadership, in the strict British sense, more than others, Turkey, a powerful nation with large territories and high tradition, has no such need."

"It is, on the contrary, to be hoped that the Turks will be partners in whatever leadership may be required in Eastern Europe, and for that matter, in the Western Asia position, to which the statesmanship which they have shown is fully entitled."

Two Nazi Agents Executed

LONDON, Aug. 6 (BWS).—Two German Secret Service agents were executed this morning.

They were KARL DRUEKE and WERNER WELTZ who were convicted by a Judge and Jury in June.

These men were brought to Britain by a German seaplane and landed from a rubber boat on the Banffshire Coast.

On landing, they were separated but the conduct of one man aroused the suspicion of the railway station staff and he was subsequently arrested.

The other man got as far as Edinburgh during the day but was also arrested.

Each was found to be carrying a wireless receiving and transmitting set as well as a large sum of English money.

ARMS FROM U.S. TO RUSSIA

Belaya-Tserkov and in the Estonian sector of the front.

"In other directions and sectors of the front, no major operations took place. In the Baltic Sea, our submarines sank an enemy transport with troops and munitions."

"Our air force continued to strike at enemy mechanised units and his infantry and artillery, and against enemy aircraft on their aerodromes."

OUTLOOK IMPROVED

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The outlook has been enormously improved since the last meeting by the admission of Russia to the anti-Hitler cause.

There was always the danger that the Soviet Union—outside the war and pursuing a policy of self-sufficiency and detachment during the struggle—might withhold its full co-operation with the post-war world, thereby making an economic reconstruction on sound foundations immeasurably more difficult.

That danger has happily passed away and we can now hope that Russia will play her full part, as a great and wealthy country, in helping to restore the shattered economic structure of Europe when fighting ends.

British Broadcasting And The War

"The B. B. C. do not include in their news bulletins any commentaries which are not either supplied or approved by the responsible department." "The B. B. C. does not allow important information relating to the character of the war to be re-broadcast without the previous approval of the Government department concerned."

The statements, which were made by a Minister of the Crown during a debate in Parliament recently, were quoted by MR. FREDERICK W. OGILVIE, Director-General of the British Broadcasting Corporation, in the course of a broadcast discussion between himself and SIR FREDERICK WHYTE in London yesterday on the subject of British broadcasting and the war.

In opening the discussion, Mr. Ogilvie said that he had had experience of peace-time as well as war-time broadcasting. When the war broke out, the number of programmes was immediately reduced and he admitted that there was a lot of grumbling by listeners to the Home service. Now though there was only a single programme there were two alternative programmes which were carried to listeners on six wavelengths.

FREEDOM TO LISTENERS

When questioned by Sir Frederick on the meaning of the word alternative, Mr. Ogilvie said that it implied the freedom which was granted to listeners in Britain. People had their individual likes and dislikes and every man and woman in the country, whether civilian or service, was free to turn on the knob of his or her wireless set, or switch it off.

"We want to increase individuality," said Mr. Ogilvie.

Sir Frederick Whyte enquired to what extent the B. B. C. spoke for the British Government.

Mr. Ogilvie replied that that was a question for the Government and not for the B. B. C. to answer but proceeded to give the two quotations referred to at the beginning of this article.

Sir Frederick: So the material in your news bulletin is either official material or it is material that has been officially passed. That makes your news bulletins authoritative.

Mr. Ogilvie said that that was why people continued to praise the B. B. C. news bulletins. In war-time, however, it was not possible to tell the whole truth because that might be telling the enemy something that they wanted to know.

Sir Frederick Whyte wanted to know what Mr. Ogilvie had to say about the rest of the vast field of broadcasting and to what extent the B. B. C. was the Government's mouthpiece.

IN CLOSEST TOUCH

Mr. Ogilvie said that the B. B. C. was always working in closest touch with the department concerned such as the Ministry of Food, the Ministry of Home Security and so on, and the B. B. C. had undertaken to accept the direction of the Ministry of Information for the duration of war in matters of policy.

The two speakers then discussed the constitutional position of the British Broadcasting Corporation and added that a spokesman in the House of Lords had recently declared that the Government fully appreciated the importance of maintaining the independence of the B. B. C.

Mr. Ogilvie went on to give particulars of the various services and said that the B. B. C. had received a great deal of co-operation from foreign stations which had picked up their services and re-broadcast them on the medium wave.

The service that the B. B. C. was carrying out was a definite contribution to the victory and the peace.

NAZI CLAIMS

driving a wedge via Zhitomir up to the gates of Kiev.

THIRD: In the central sector, an army group under Field-Marshal von Bock has vigorously concluded a great battle of Smolensk which, for the space of time, and the hardness of the fighting, had "a unique place in history."

Some 310,000 prisoners were taken, 3,250 guns and vast quantities of other war material were captured or destroyed.

The Soviet Air Force lost 1,098 aircraft in this sector. Details of the progress of the battle would be given in tomorrow's High Command communique.

FOURTH: Successes are thereby achieved, which far exceeded our most daring expectations. They can only be appreciated to full extent if one considers the bloody losses of the enemy "fighting with extreme stubbornness and sullenness" and a far exceeded number of prisoners was taken.

"Owing to exceptional organisation, the railway system in the occupied enemy zone has been restored almost to a full extent, practically up to the zone of battle. "Conscious of their superiority and of certainty of a final victory, German armed forces are now ready to continue, in a new sector of operations, the fight which it has begun with a series of very great victories."

JAPANESE BOMBERS RAID YENAN

CHUNGKING, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—Yenan, so-called capital of the Chinese Communist district in North Shensi Province, was among the places bombed during extensive Japanese raids on Monday.

The city was attacked by 34 planes.

Cities in South and West Hunan and Kwangsi were again attacked by 52 planes.

DAMASCUS, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—Seventy-five British and Indian officers captured during the Syrian campaign and flown by Vichy pilots to an unknown destination are still unaccounted for. All others captured in Syria, including British and Indian troops, were handed back in accordance with the terms of the armistice.

AUSTRALIAN WAR EFFORT

FIGURES REVEALED BY MINISTER

SYDNEY, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—Mr. P. C. Spender, Minister for War, has given figures revealing the extent of Australia's war effort. He said that upwards of 50 naval vessels, including mine-sweepers, patrol vessels and Tribal Class destroyers, would be built.

Naval personnel had been increased by 350 per cent. since the war began and enlistments were continuing at the rate of 5,000 per year.

The Royal Australian Air Force strength equalled three army divisions while the Australians' share of the cost of the Empire Air Scheme was likely to be £60,000,000 by March next.

Originally Australia undertook to provide 16,000 air crew personnel by next March and 10,000 after that, but these figures were increasing beyond recognition.

Mr. Spender added that if the war extended beyond 1942, the annual army expenditure would more than total the army expenditure for the whole of the last war, namely £192,600,000.

He also revealed that the total A.I.F. casualties so far were 1,194 killed and 11,345 wounded and missing.

Australia's Army

First Official Figures

MELBOURNE, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—The announcement by the Army Minister, Mr. P. C. Spender, during a broadcast on Monday night that 180,000 men had enlisted in the Australian Imperial Force and that 90,000 of them had been sent abroad is the first official disclosure of Australia's army figures.

It was officially pointed out on Tuesday that they compare favourably on a population basis with Canada's 376,000 men.

Australia, it is added, has 200,000 men for Home Defence as well as large numbers in the Royal Australian Air Force and the Royal Australian Navy.

NAZIS ALARMED BY SERB UNREST

ZURICH, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—The Germans are alarmed by the serious turn that anti-Nazi disorders have taken in Yugoslavia.

A threatening proclamation by the German Commandant in Belgrade warns the Serbs that the "hour is coming to decide on the rise or final descent of the Serbian people."

According to the Berlin correspondent of the National Zeitung, the Nazis admit that 500 or 600 "escaped convicts" whom they blamed for the disorders have been joined by "other sections of the population."

HARBOURING ALLEGED FATHER OF GIRL RECALLED

Further hearing of the case in which Cheng Chung-pong is charged with harbouring a 17-year-old unmarried girl, Law Tsoichu, without the consent of her father, Law Lai-chuen, on divers dates between March 2 and May 16, was fixed for Aug. 13 by Mr.
H. G. Sheldon, K.C., at the Central Magistrate's yesterday.

At yesterday's hearing, Mr. W. A.
Mackinlay, for the defence, asked permission to recall the complainant's father, which was granted.

In the witness box, Law, in reply to Mr. Mackinlay, stated that his office was situated at the south side of Austin Rd., in Canton Rd.

Mr. M. A. da Silva, for the prosecution, asked the witness if he could possibly direct counsel for the defence to his office, to which witness replied, "Yes."

Au Yueng Yat Hing, of No. 1 Hill Road, in evidence, stated he had known defendant for nine or ten years and that he also knew complainant. It was through him that defendant first met complainant at
No. 38 Percival Street.

NEGATIVE REPLY

Asked by Mr. Silva if he had ever seen defendant smoking opium or heroin during the time he had known him, witness replied in the negative.

Choy Kwong, "boy" employed at the Chu Kwong Club, Bird Street, testified that he knew complainant as Ah Chee. Her father, he alleged, came to the club on one occasion and asked for her, but he told him that she had just gone out.

However, witness told the father that defendant was inside the club and he subsequently joined defendant. A little later, complainant came in and joined them and, after some conversation between them, the father, complainant, defendant and a friend of the latter, left the club.

Cross-examined by Mr. Silva, as to whether he had seen either the defendant or Au Yueng Yat Hing smoking opium at the club, witness stated that he did see them, but apparently they were smoking opium just for the fun of it.

At this stage, the hearing was adjourned.

Insp. G. W. Moreton, of the S.C.
A., assisted Mr. Silva in the prosecution.

ROUND THE POLICE COURTS AT CENTRAL

UNREGISTERED SCHOOL

Cheung Hak-chung, of No. 8 Tai Ping Shan Street, appeared before
Mr. H.G. Sheldon, K.C., yesterday when he was summoned for managing a school at No. 10 Tai Ping Shan Street, second floor, without having first applied for and obtained a certificate of registration of the said premises as a school on July 24.

Mr. J.M. Wilson, Senior Inspector of Schools, prosecuting, stated that defendant should have known better about registration as he operates two other schools.

Defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $100.

MANAGER FINED

The Manager of the Ping Cheung
Wooden Box Co., was fined $10 by Mr. Sheldon, K.C., yesterday when he was summoned for opening and keeping a factory at No. 256 Wanchal Road, ground floor, without registering.

Mr. M.A. da Silva, for the defence, stated that his client was ignorant of the registration laws and, in fact, the factory was in operation for the past eight years.
However, Mr. Silva said that an application had been forwarded to Insp. Elliot, Chief Inspector of

SUCCESSFUL NIGHT OPERATIONS OF R.A.F. IN NORTH AFRICA

CAIRO, Aug. 6 (Reuter) — A number of successful operations by R.A.F. heavy bombers in Cyrenaica during the night of August 3-4 are recorded in yesterday's R.A.F. communique.

One formation attacked Port Derna, causing considerable damage and starting a number of fires. Two buildings at the base of the mole were destroyed. Bombs were also dropped on the landing ground and on a battery which was silenced.

Other aircraft attacked the landing ground and dispersal area at Gazala and caused a series of explosions and several fires. Huts and a camp in the vicinity were machine-gunned from a few hundred feet and about 25 tents caught fire.

An attack was delivered on enemy shipping off the coast near Apollonia and hits were made on one ship and possibly another.

Enemy merchantships were again attacked in the same area yesterday and two of them are believed to have been hit.

VIOLENT EXPLOSION

R.A.F. bombers carried out a successful attack on the harbour at Tripoli on August 3. One merchantship of 800 tons was hit by a heavy bomb and the violent explosion which followed threw up a great quantity of wreckage into the air.

Two direct hits were obtained on military buildings which were also machine-gunned.

Reconnaissance of Reggio, south Italy, shows that in the attack reported in yesterday's communique, ten Macchi 200's and a Breda 20 were destroyed while about 20 more Macchis were damaged, several very badly.

From the above operations all British aircraft returned safely.

SUZUKI CANAL RAID

"There was an air raid in the Suzuki Canal area and some parts of the Delta during last night," says a Ministry of the Interior communique.

"A number of high explosives and incendiaries were dropped in the Canal area, causing the death of 90 persons and injuring 100. Some damage was done to property. No casualties or damage occurred in the Delta."

Wartime Pamphlet On Growing Hops

Increased interest in the growing of hops has been general since 1930 in Eastern Canada and British Columbia, the two principal districts in which they are grown in Canada. However, the Canadian output has never been sufficient to meet the needs of the country and the deficiency has been supplied by Great Britain, Continental Europe, and the United States over 60 per cent. of the imports coming from Europe.

In view of the fact that war time exigency will probably curtail the European source of supply, the Agricultural Supplies Board has issued a pamphlet (No. 52) entitled "Hop Growing."

In general, hops do well on a fairly wide range of soil types. It is essential that the land be well drained and fertile. In Eastern Canada the greater part of the area planted to hops is sandy loam soil of medium to good fertility. This soil type is usually better drained than the heavier soils and is therefore much more suitable for hop production.

As a rule, hops can be grown where the soil type is suitable and harvesting is possible during the latter part of August and early September.

HEAVIER SOILS

Under moderate climatic conditions, such as are found in the hop districts of British Columbia, hops can be grown on somewhat heavier soils, but in Eastern Canada it is imperative the crop be grown on well-drained sandy loam to avoid the heavy losses occasioned by heaving by frost and the subsequent winter killing of the roots.

Even when grown on light soils, some winter killing does occur, but, with adequate snow cover, which is normally the case in Eastern Canada, the damage is usually slight.

Full information is given in the pamphlet as to soil type and climate, regional adaptation, fertilizers, planting and cultivating, training the hops to use the poles, pruning, diseases and their control, insects affecting hops and their control, harvesting the crop, drying, curing, baling and storing, marketing, capital expenditure, together with a note on the labour problem.

COLLATERAL SECURITIES FOR U.S. LOAN

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter) — The British Treasury announced that an order has been made specifying American securities which owners are required to place at the disposal of the Treasury for use as part of the collateral securities for the loan of £100,000,000 from the United States.

Owners are required to deliver documents of title. This should be done through a bank or stockbroker. Receipts will be issued for the securities. It is emphasized that these should be carefully preserved as it will be necessary in connexion with any change of title to procure their eventual return to the holders.

The securities will be released when no more are required to serve as collateral, unless the Treasury should decide that it is necessary to acquire them outright or in the event of difficulty on the loan, in which case payment for them will be made in sterling on the basis of the market price at the time.

Meanwhile sterling equivalent of dividends will be paid in accordance with instructions given to the Bank of England on the lodgment form.

UNDERSTANDING APPARENTLY REACHED

JAPAN AND N.E.I. TRADE

TOKYO, Aug. 6 (Reuter) — An understanding has apparently been reached between Japan and the N.E.I. regarding the readjustment of trade relations, reports the Batavia correspondent of the YOMIURI SHIMBUN quoting information emanating from a "certain quarter."

The correspondent says that the shipment of merchandise under the provisional arrangement from ports in the two countries may be permitted on the basis of mutual aid.

Queried in regard to the report at a Press conference, Mr. Koh Ishii, spokesman of the Information Board, said: "Japan and the N.E.I. have no intention to stop trade, but on the contrary, want to continue it through an arrangement which must be discussed."

ECONOMIC DEFENCE MEASURES BY U.S.

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter) — A remarkable development in the measures of the economic defence taken by the United States Government during the last six months, were stressed by Mr. Hugh Dalton, Minister for Economic Warfare, who explained that the United States export licensing system which not covers almost all commodities important for war purposes is being strictly enforced, and is most effective by means of denying supplies to the enemy.

It is now being supplemented and added by a big programme of purchases of strategic material in Latin America which will also deprive the Axis of valuable supplies.

The financial side of the blockade has been much strengthened by the freezing of German, Italian and Japanese assets, said Mr. Dalton in conclusion.

He characterised the development of the United States measures of economic defence over the past six months as "remarkable."

BRITAIN'S COAL POSITION

QUESTION DEBATED IN COMMONS

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter) — The possibility of coal rationing in the coming winter was mentioned by Sir Andrew Duncan, President of the Board of Trade, speaking in the coal debate in the House of Commons yesterday.

"It may well be," he said, "that in the winter we may have to have a comprehensive scheme for the rationing of all non-industrial uses of coal and different forms of fuel. Though that may well be, I think that we can be fairly certain that it is not likely that our war effort this winter will be impeded for lack of fuel or power or that the public will have to suffer an unreasonable rationing scheme."

YAUMATI FERRY COMPANY IS SUED BY FORMER EMPLOYEE*Interesting Revelation
During Evidence

That the practice of giving short change to passengers in the third class on the Yaumati ferry had been going on for a long time was revealed during evidence in an action brought in the Summary Court yesterday in which a former employee of the HONGKONG AND YAUMATI FERRY COMPANY sued his employers for $334.50 for the return of a deposit and one-and-a-half months' wages due.

The plaintiff was LI LEUNG, of No. 604 Reclamation Street, first floor, who was represented by Mr. H. A. de Barros Botelho. Mr. F. H. Loseby was for the defence.

The plaintiff claimed that the amount comprised $300 cash deposited with defendants on Oct. 23, 1937, and April 26, 1938, under receipt No. 322 to secure the services of plaintiff as a ticket collector and seller; $11.50 being half-month's wages due by defendant, and $23 for one month's wages in lieu of notice.

Plaintiff also claimed interest on the $300 at the rate of $3 per $100 per annum from Jan. 1, 1940, until date of obtaining payment or judgment, and costs of the action.

NO SALARY

Mr. Botelho said that plaintiff joined defendant company on Oct. 23, 1937 as a reserve ticket collector and had to put up $100 security. He received no salary but was only paid by the man whom he was called to substitute.

On April 22, 1938, he was promoted to reserve seller on putting up another $200 security. Here again he received no salary.

He was taken on the permanent staff on Sept. 21, 1940, at a monthly salary of $23. On Oct. 24 plaintiff and another were charged with conspiring to defraud the company, but plaintiff was acquitted.

Plaintiff, Mr. Botelho went on, was dismissed by the company before the Magistrate arrived at his decision and the first he knew of his dismissal was that a notice was posted up on Nov. 1 stating that his services had been dispensed with.

Mr. Botelho said the defence was that his dismissal was justified but he would submit that the fact that plaintiff was acquitted of the charge did not justify the defendants in dismissing him. Mr. Botelho added that no reason for dismissal was given.

PLAINTIFF TESTIFIES

Li Leung, in evidence, stated that when he was taken on the permanent staff he worked at the Hungnam wharf. He was then transferred to the Jordan Road wharf and sold first class tickets until Oct. 16 when he was again transferred to the third class section.

As he had no experience he employed Leung Fong to assist him from Oct. 18 to 24. On the morning of Oct. 24 he arrived at the wharf to find Leung Fong already there. An inspector came to check the turnstile and he then left for a few minutes.

Later in the morning Mr. A. V. Young, Secretary of the Company, came and inspected the turnstile. He went away and came back with a European sergeant and Chinese detective and plaintiff, Leung Fong and Au Tim were arrested. His (plaintiff's) salary was paid up to Oct. 15 and he had received no other notice other than the one posted up.

Cross-examined by Mr. Loseby, plaintiff stated that it had been the practice to give six cents change for a three-cent ticket when a ten-cent piece was tendered. He regarded this as commission. No notice, said plaintiff, forbidding this practice had been put up by the company and, in his opinion, the company was aware of the practice. He had not heard of any one of the employees having been dismissed for giving short change.

In answer to his Lordship, plaintiff said that he was told by the chief inspector, Au Yeung Yim-ming, that he could make something in addition to his salary by giving short change to passengers.

His Lordship remarked that plaintiff had called it premium but his Lordship regarded it as dishonesty.

NOT ALLOWED

H. K. Long, marine superintendent, said he had been employed by defendant firm since 1932. The company, he said, did not allow its employees to give short change to passengers, and, in order to avoid this, had allowed some moneychangers to be on the wharf.

On the morning of Oct. 24 he found the meter of the turnstile not working and with a piece of wood underneath it. This meter was installed by Government who were entitled to a Royalty on the fares collected. If a permanent employee engaged a reserve to work for him the former was responsible for the turnstile.

Au Yeung Yiu-ming, chief inspector, denied in evidence, that he told plaintiff he could make something by giving short change. What he told plaintiff was that the company expected every passenger to tender the exact fare. If this was not done the proper change was to be given. If he could not meet this change he could, on a passenger accepting it, give back six cents change and keep the one cent himself. He had not heard of a single case in which an employee had been dismissed for giving short change.

Questioned by Mr. Botelho, witness stated that was the general advice he gave to ticket sellers on the Yaumati ferry wharf.

His Lordship reserved judgment which he will give tomorrow morning.

DRASTIC ACTION AGAINST FREIGHT RAMP

According to waterfront rumours prices of rice, firewood and other essentials will be going down shortly as Government intend to take drastic action, through the Shipping Control Board, in respect of what was called in THE ANDRIAN the freight ramp.

According to the reports, so far unconfirmable, Government's intention is to either requisition ships lying in harbour or charter freighters for the transportation of rice and food supplies.

Cremation services for the late Miss Margaret Milne Sutherland, Senior Assistant in the Public School for Girls who passed away at the Country Hospital, Shanghai, on July 19, were held in the Bubbling Well Cemetery Chapel on July 22 with the Very Rev. A. C. S. Trivett of the Cathedral officiating.

ESTABLISHING SOCIAL JUSTICE

The sick, the hungry, the unhappy, the bereaved,—how numerous are the Christian organisations which seek to alleviate human misery. I need not give any examples. They are familiar to us all.

NOBLE TRADITION

This ambulance work is a noble tradition, inherited from the middle ages when poverty probably was inevitable, and at any rate it was certainly believed that there was no alternative organisation of society imaginable. The Church led the way until society as a whole began to recognise its responsibility for many of these works of mercy, and the State took over hospitals, orphanages, and institutions for the poor. Perhaps in Hongkong, where the Government has still so far to go in meeting all its responsibilities in these directions, ambulance work is still the main task of the Church.

But ambulance work is not enough. The poverty and disease of the Middle Ages are no longer inevitable. Changes in the organisation of society are no longer inconceivable, but actively advocated. The war is a time of great promise of change. Ought not some Christians at least to be playing a part in bringing about these changes, or giving them a Christian direction. I confess to being very uneasy about what is called "charity." Charity is the supreme Christian virtue, but "charity" in the sense of giving what we can spare or in the sense of donations from firms with excessive profits is giving the same name to a very different thing.

Perhaps we ought to feel sorry not that we cannot give more but that we belong to a society which allows us to feel satisfied that "charity" is necessary. Certain conditions are damnable. If God has condemned them, is it not our duty to remove them just as much or more than it is our duty to succour the victims of them?

Here comes another difficulty. We do not know what the remedy is. We may disagree about it. But we can experiment to find out. The work of Chinese Industrial Co-operatives is a very good instance of this kind of economic and social experiment. The St. Pancras House Improvement Society is another. Those better acquainted with the practical social problems in Hongkong may be able to direct us to some useful experimental work which could be done here.

WAR ON EXPLOITATION

Another practical possibility seems to me to be a war on exploitation. Can we not find out what is the minimum wage necessary to support healthy life, and do our best to insist on its being paid? We can press for legislation, we can try and persuade firms to join the scheme, and publish lists of those who won't. Then again, there ought to be properly regulated hours of work in shops. I do not see why standards which are considered essential in England are not insisted on in Hongkong where employees are less well nourished and the climate is less healthy. Here is the place to tackle tuberculosis, not in regulations about spitting.

If the reply is, these things are impossible, your demands would ruin Hongkong, that can only mean that we accept the fact that we propose to go on unrepentant. If Hongkong can only continue at the price of the lives and disease and misery that it is now paying, then it may as well be ruined. I cannot think that God would bless the church which accepted that answer as a satisfactory one. G.A.G. in the St. John's Review.

TRIBUTE TO A WIFE

Sir William Seager, Welsh shipowner, who began work as an office boy and whose ships were sailing the world when he died last March, left in his will this last tribute to his wife.

"It is upwards of 38 years ago that my dear wife, Lady Margaret Anne Seager, and I learned to love each other, and she resolved to give up her all in order that we might marry, since when she has been my helpmate, best friend and wisest counsellor.

"And I rejoice exceedingly that her love for and confidence in me has not been unwavering, and that my determination to make good, accompanied as it was by much anxiety, has brought me to a builder's contractor. He own reward of duty done, and left 4180,418 net personally by courage and faith was enabled 2183,702.

Southern Soccer Clubs Expelled From League

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—A number of SOUTHERN football clubs, including 11 in London, having decided to play their own League Cup events this season, have been expelled from the Football League.

The controversy goes back several weeks when the Londoners objected to the fixtures laid down by the League on the ground of excessive travelling.

They suggested their own league which other southern clubs joined. The Football League, thereupon, threatened expulsion if the Southerners did not fulfil original fixtures.

The Londoners held a meeting and stood by their decision, whereupon the expulsion, which concerns such famous teams as Arsenal, Chelsea, Brentford and Tottenham, came into force following a further league meeting last night.

SHARES CANCELLED

It was then decided that "in the unanimous opinion of the Football League management committee, all the 15 Southern clubs, who refused to fulfil fixtures made for them, have by their action ceased to be members of the Football League and the committee have resolved that the shares in the League held by the eight full members are now cancelled".

The four clubs who joined the Londoners' revolt are Aldershot, Brighton, Reading and Warford.

CHURCHILL, ROOSEVELT TO MEET IN MID-OCEAN?

WASHINGTON, AUG. 6 (Reuter).—Speculation on whether Mr. Winston Churchill will cross the Atlantic to meet President Roosevelt at sea was prevalent here yesterday.

Well-informed circles express doubt and there is nothing official or unofficial to confirm or deny the suggestion.

A message from the President's yacht Potomac says that Roosevelt is continuing his cruise in northern waters, to an unknown destination.

Another message from Washington states that the Commander of the Atlantic Fleet, Rear-Admiral Ernest King, visited President Roosevelt aboard the President's yacht yesterday and discussed naval matters.

NORD-RUSSIAN RELATIONS

LONDON, Aug. 6 (Reuter).—Diplomatic relations between the Norwegian Government and the U.S.S.R. are to be resumed. Norwegian Foreign Minister Dr. Trygve Lie and Ambassador of the U.S.S.R. in London, M. Ivan Malsky, exchanged letters yesterday in which both sides expressed a desire for an exchange of Ministers.

In connexion with this announcement, Dr. Lie has made the following statement through the Information Office of the Norwegian Government: "I am glad to use this opportunity in order to express pleasure at the resumption of our formal diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union. Norway has lived on terms of good neighbourly relations with Russia for many years and during the period between the two world wars, there was never any conflict between the governments of the two countries."

COMMON ENEMY

"Both parties naturally have a great interest in seeing that this good and friendly relationship is strengthened and developed. We are particularly happy that it is possible for this to take place precisely at a time when the Russian Army and the Russian people are fighting an heroic battle against German aggressors. It is a fight which arouses the admiration of the whole world." Hitler Germany is our common enemy and the attack on the Soviet Union is the first and foremost integral part of Germany's fight for world domination. The victory of Germany would mean oppression and slavery for Norway and for the whole world."

"And I rejoice exceedingly that her love for and confidence in me has not been unwavering, and that my determination to make good, accompanied as it was by much anxiety, has brought me to a builder's contractor. He own reward of duty done, and left 4180,418 net personally by courage and faith was enabled 2183,702.

Reprieve For Cooked Food Hawkers

It was learned from usually reliable sources that, in view of the present high cost of living, Government is not proceeding with the recommendation of the Urban Council to cancel the licences of all cooked food hawkers at the end of the licensing year.

It will be recalled that at the meeting of the Urban Council on June 17, it was proposed by the Chairman that all licences issued to itinerant cooked food hawkers should be withdrawn at the next licensing session and that the licences issued to food stalls should be reduced by 20 per cent. annually for the next five years.

This proposal was adopted by the Urban Council at a subsequent meeting and would have come up for Legislative Council debate this afternoon, when the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo will move that the whole question be referred to a special committee for investigation.

EXPANSION OF SHIUKWAN PLANNED

In view of the growing importance of Shiukwan as the wartime capital of Kwangtung province, the Land Public Works Bureau and the Land Bureau are jointly mapping out an ambitious plan for the expansion of the city to meet the increasing population and industrial and commercial activities.

According to the plan, acres of land in the north, east and south will be added to the original area, making the city one of the largest in the province.

The new city will be divided into residential, commercial, industrial, cultural, amusement and administrative districts. A park will be built in each district and trees will be planted on both sides of the roads. Particular attention will be paid to sanitary projects.

New houses, roads, bridges, power plants and waterworks will be built while new industries will be developed. For increasing the power supply, the Kwangtung Provincial Government has decided to appropriate $800,000 for the installment of new machinery in the existing plant.

Funds for the expansion of the city and the building of public utilities are to be raised from among overseas Chinese, local businessmen and prominent citizens and the banks, particularly the Kwangtung Provincial Bank. In the first stage of the city construction project the existing roads will be widened and improved, in the second, the rivers traversing the city will be dredged and in the third stage, construction of the different districts will begin.—(Central News).

The bonds will bear interest of five per cent. per annum which will also be calculated in kind and will be redeemed in five years, beginning 1943.—(Central News).
